

On March 27, 2011 at Laurel Hall, Phi Psi's Headquarters, 14 new brothers were initiated into the chapter. Indiana Epsilon's newest members continue to add to the chapter's diversity with members hailing from throughout the country. The chapter's revamped pledge program teaches new members various life and leadership skills including resume building, social networking and chapter operations. Congratulations to Indiana Epsilon's newest members!

Homecoming 2011

FRIDAY, September 30 - SUNDAY, October 2

Since my time as House Corporation President began, I have been most fortunate to volunteer with a dedicated group of alumni. Not only has this group worked to plan and implement an annual homecoming reception in the fall and the annual golf outing in the spring but they have also worked tirelessly to secure and ensure the financial health of the organization, improve the physical structure, recruit and inspire alumni participation with the undergraduate chapter improvements. The most recent and begin to strategically plan for the chapter's long-term improvements have included new carpet in the second and third floor hallways, a new concrete slab in the alleyway to aid with trash removal and new dining room furniture.

As the semester comes to a close and we look toward summer we're proud of the chapter's recent accomplishments, including most noticeably improved internal communication and leadership. Much of the improvement has been a byproduct of a semester based listing of objectives/goals. These, derived from committee meetings and chapter retreats, have been pinned to our success. Additionally, the chapter has worked tirelessly to increase the number of philanthropy events and activities available to brothers. Through more offerings it is our goal to increase the chapter's presence within the community. Whether it be Relay for Life, Habitat for Humanity, the Big Brother Project, the Cafe Mana Soup Kitchen or helping read to elementary students, members of the chapter have committed hundreds and hundreds of hours this semester to numerous organizations and causes. While helping others continues to be a focus, the chapter also spent much time revising and improving the chapter's bylaws which have resulted in an increased number of required philanthropy hours, a higher GPA requirement to participate in social and athletic fraternal events, and stricter risk management policies. With the spring 2011 semester behind us, we are looking forward to building upon the foundation established when we arrive back on campus in the fall.

Over the course of the last semester, the chapter has participated in and hosted several philanthropy events and activities ranging from charity drives to walks. These events underscore Phi Psi's commitment to give back and serve others. "Our Fraternity was founded on the 'Great Joy of Serving Others', so inherently we should be and are focused and committed to serving our community," explains Brother Jeff Williamson '09.

This spring, the chapter hosted its annual Phi Psi 500 event, a weeklong competition between campus organization teams that raises money for the chapter's main philanthropy, the Boys' and Girls' Club of Porter County. Traditional activities included the always popular Phi Psi Olympics, a contest in which individual speed and agility as well as a date auction, scavenger hunt and bake-off. This year the event raised over $1,600. The Kappa Delta Sorority team finished in first place, followed by the Delta Delta Sorority and the Gamma Phi Beta Sorority rounding out the top three.

The chapter, under the direction of Brother Austin Hook '08, also recently organized a partnership with a local Habitat for Humanity
